Executive Summary:

1. (U) This was a last-minute request by both senators from NY who clearly had heard thru the senatorial grapevine that both TTIC and CTC had been shopping around a mid-summer threat briefing going to the standing IC oversight committees. Coming from NY, they had a particular interest in knowing what was happening. TTIC's Neal Berry provided them a quick synopsis of just that. He reviewed an overview of what we knew of threats to American interests both in CONUS and overseas, as well as what the IC thought AQ was up to. The picture that was painted was that these are dangerous times, and the senators clearly concurred. Neal promised that should the generalities surrounding the various threats begin to gel into actionable intelligence with specific targets, we would certainly keep the Hill informed. Briefing was cordial and productive throughout, and graciously received.
